READABLE BOOKS ABOUT THE SOUTH FROM OUR SHELVES

- Barbour, Thomas. THAT VANISHING EDEN. A NATURALIST'S FLORIDA. Boston, Little, Brown & Co., 1944. 250 p. illus. 409 R23
"That vanishing Eden of which Thomas Barbour writes is the state of Florida. He has known it intimately for almost half a century. This book shows the plight of Florida's wildlife--how ignorance and avarice ruined it with ruthless efficiency. As Dr. Barbour bluntly puts it in his final paragraph, the salvation of these wild resources will depend upon evolution in the state itself."--N.Y. Herald Tribune.
- Cash, W. J. THE MIND OF THE SOUTH. N.Y., Knopf, 1941. 429 p. 280.002 C26
Mr. Cash was born in South Carolina and grew up in North Carolina, where he still lives. This is his first published book and has engaged his attention for many years.
- Daniels, Jonathan. A SOUTHERNER DISCOVERS THE SOUTH. N.Y., Macmillan, 1938. 346 p. 280.002 D22
- Duffus, R. L. THE VALLEY AND ITS PEOPLE; A PORTRAIT OF TVA. N.Y., Knopf, 1944. 176 p. illus. 280.002 D87
"Here is the story of the nation's first great experiment in rebuilding by the stimulus of public enterprise a region laid waste by decades of exploitation. Pictorially the story of this immense development program and of those who have been concerned with its progress has been told in series of magnificent photographs."--Book jacket.
- Federal Writers' Project. THESE ARE YOUR LIVES. Chapel Hill, Univ. of N.C. press, 1939. 421 p. 280.002 F31
"Thirty-five life histories of real people, whites and Negroes, in three basic fields of industry in the South--farm laborers, tenants, and owners, factory and mill workers, people engaged in service occupations--and those on relief."
- Hawkins, Kenneth. BEEKEEPING IN THE SOUTH. Hamilton, Ill., American Bee Journal, 1920. 120 p. 424 H312
"This is a very practical book, and one of the few books which covers conditions actually existing in the Southeastern States."--Charles Smith, PMA, Atlanta, Ga.
- Milling, C. J. RED CAROLINIANS. Chapel Hill, Univ. of N.C. press, 1940. 438 p. 134 M
